Highly Integrated Supply Chain

Taiwan's fastener industry is a highly integrated supply chain. From upstream (wire, machineries, fasteners) to downstream (sales agents and diversified applications), Taiwan companies all play important roles. It provides stable supply at competitive price and low transport costs. You may find raw material suppliers (annealing & stainless steel wire, rod), fastener producers (molding, heat processing, surface processing) and marketing networks. Best of all, it takes only 30 minute drive to the industry cluster from the venue of Fastener Taiwan 2020.

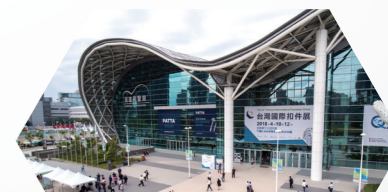

Broad Spectrum of Fastener Products

Taiwan fastener makers produce a broad spectrum of products ranging from fundamental to high-end, spanning nuts, bolts and screws for ICT, automobiles, aerospace, medical care, construction, transportation, general machinery and precision instruments.

Innovation for Higher Value

In addition to proven capacity for supplying custom-spec fastener products to the automobile, 3C, aerospace and medical industries, Taiwan's key fastener players have formed the High-end Fastener Products R&D Alliance with government support to greatly boost capacity for supplying the high-end market.
